Good afternoon,

Hope you are doing well. I am with the College of Engineering, Informatics, and Applied Sciences at Northern Arizona University. We are currently in the process of hiring an Assistant Professor position for our Applied Physics and Material Sciences department and we wanted to reach out to other universities. We would appreciate if you were able to share this position with anyone who might be interested in applying! Below is a brief description of the position as well as the instructions on how to apply.

The Department of Applied Physics and Materials Science (APMS) at Northern Arizona University is seeking applicants for a tenure track faculty position at the assistant professor rank. Outstanding candidates in all areas of Physics will be considered but areas of interest include Computational Materials and Biophysics. The successful candidate is expected to establish a well-funded, competitive research program; engage in high-quality undergraduate and graduate teaching; mentor graduate and undergraduate students; contribute to undergraduate and graduate curriculum development; contribute to professional service; and demonstrate a commitment to Diversity, Equity, Inclusion and Justice (DEIJ) through their research and scholastic activities.
