Dear Dr. Peter Fisher,

We are seeking STEM faculty to participate in a national survey study about how faculty navigate both professional and personal demands.

To be eligible, participants must:

1. be over the age of 21 years,
2. identify as a STEM faculty in a research-focused role,
3. be in a committed romantic relationship for 6 months or more.

Participants can earn a $25 e-gift card for their participation in the survey, which should take no more than 35 minutes. Participation in this survey is voluntary.

Attached you will find a copy of the study flyer, which we kindly ask that you distribute to your networks.

For ease, we have included the survey link directly in this email:

We would be very appreciative if you could email us back to let us know about the forms of the distribution so that we may estimate the reach of the recruitment effort.

On behalf of the project PIs, Dr. Mateo Cruz, Assistant Professor of Management, Bentley University; Dr. Stephanie Pfirman, Professor, School of Sustainability, College of Global Futures; and Dr. Ashley K. Randall, Associate Professor in Counseling and Counseling Psychology at Arizona State University.

Sincerely,
